

Frontend Developer

Job Specification - iamIP

A fantastic opportunity to work in a small agile team of experts who enjoy the challenge, embrace quality, craftsmanship and delivering business value in short life cycles. This is an exciting opportunity that offers variety, innovation, and unique challenges every day.

Who we are?

iamIP has digitalized one of the last few paper-based and manually handled industries, the complex intellectual property industry. This industry is plagued by complexity with over 2.7 M new patents filed every year (growing), and $20Bn+ is lost in double work in R&D in Europe alone. iamIP's platform enables technology-based companies to easily overview and evaluate their intellectual property portfolios, monitor competition and get valuable strategic insights - in time - for determining decision-making in innovation.
